O. B. Hurler Fans 17 But Local Team Loses Opener 5-1

The Ocean Beach Merchants succumbed to a case of the jitters in their regular league season opener Monday night and were defeated by the Anderson Furniture nine, 5 to 1, at Horace Mann diamond in a AAA class game.

On the whole the Ocean Beach aggregation made a very presentable showing. Manager Bill Homik was especially pleased with the fine performance of Pitcher Guthrie and fielders Miller and Forshey who garnered the run producing hits off of "Foxy" Joe Hurst, veteran of 20 years pitching. Pitcher Guthrie struck out the amazing total of 17 men and lost a heartbreaking ball game.

The final summaries were: Andersons, 5 runs 4 hits and no errors. Ocean Beach, 1 run 2 hits and 3 errors. "We might add the boys were well pleased by the fine attendance of Ocean Beach fans," says Homik.

Next game for the Ocean Beach nine will be with the Modern Woodmen team tonight (Friday) 8 o'clock at Horace Mann.

Point Loma High To Have New Coach Starting Next Fall

Point Loma High is to have a new head basketball and assistant football coach next school year, in Hilbert Crosthwaite, a graduate this year and former football star of State College, announces Dr. W. C. Crawford, city school head, this week. Crosthwaite succeeds Don Clarkson who has been promoted to San Diego Junior College. Don Giddings remains head football coach and track coach of the Pointers.

Though this is Crosthwaite's first job as a high school coach he coached junior varsity football at State the past school year. His playing career was at State before he entered military service in 1941. He has a wife and one youngster and lives in San Diego.

Giddings reported Wednesday that Point Loma High will have only two first stringers in football the coming season, Ray Keough and Manuel Silva, in basketball none and in baseball two, Y. Takeshita and John Brown. In track, however, the prospects are better, with several first string men coming back, Giddings reports.

"Skeeter" Malcolm of Ocean Beach will be a helper on the coaching staff at Point Loma, Giddings stated.

Another coaching change announced was that of La Jolla Coach Larry Hanson. Larry has been elected to handle the athletics at Dana Junior, a prospect that pleased Giddings. The latter said that means better candidates for the Pointer teams when the Dana graduates transfer to Point Loma.

Summarizing the past year at Point Loma, the Pointers won championships in both football and baseball and the athletic letters awarded at year's end were to the following on the various teams:

Loma Community Church to Observe Tenth Anniversary

(By Mrs. E. G. Colby)

Ten years of church history will be completed this month, and celebrated, at the Point Loma Community church beginning June 22. At the worship service on that date Rev. S. Dean McBride, pastor, will offer as his sermon "The Perspective of the Years." Aim is to have present all those who were attending the church on June 27, 1937, as well as all of the present members and friends.

On the actual anniversary date, June 27, an evening of fellowship sponsored by the church, will be held on the lot adjoining the present building, and the site of the future plant.

On June 29, the eleventh year will begin with a service of dedication, including the celebration of the Holy Communion.

Has Added 700

The Point Loma Community church is inter-denominational. Actually it is a Presbyterian church, but all of the major denominations are represented. It was organized 10 years ago with 113 members, and has added 700 names to its roll.

Dr J. A. Stevenson served the church for the first nine months, after which Rev. Thomas Franklyn Hudson was installed as pastor. Rev. McBride, the present minister, came June 7, 1942. Obviously the organization has outgrown its present quarters, and plans are rapidly developing for a new educational unit and church on the lot next to the one now in use.

Has Live Men's Club

A Men's club, a Women's guild and supper clubs for the older and for the younger married couples have been formed. A large Sunday school has consistently functioned during the 10 years. A senior choir furnished the music regularly, also a junior choir with Mrs. Phyllis Barker Burns as director of both. Miss Blanche became director of religious education in October, 1946.

Mrs. H. V. Cronk will leave tomorrow for Whittier, Calif., where she will be the guest of friends for about a week. She plans to return to Ocean Beach on June 28. In the meantime, her 16-year-old nephew, Carrol Adams, is a guest in her own home at 1629 Sunset Cliffs. He is visiting here from Manteca, Calif. and plans to spend the summer with his aunt.

room. It's a rather shabby one, but I've no kick to make 'cause it's bucketing rain outside to the accompaniment of thunder. I am sharing the room with a Mississippi school teacher.

I am so warm all the time that my body constantly feels sticky. My yellow sunsuit is droopy with the dampness from my skin. I have spent my first five days writing and looking for a job—have a prospect at an alteration shop (clothing).

New Orleans has an air about it that I've not felt anywhere else—friendly and easy going, yet prosperous and sophisticated. The majority of its people have dark hair—French and negroes. They mingle carelessly in the poorer business sections but never completely give up the attitude which is rigidly placed by the upper class. The negro here is always a servant.

It has rained almost continuously since I crossed the Louisiana border, which explains the lush vegetation—I thoroughly appreciate. After dry, brown San Diego, or desertly Arizona and plained Texas, the huge trees, hanging moss and masses of lilies, gardenias and iris seems a wonderland to me. It's worth getting wet every day to have such greenery! My thick blooded body can hardly understand the heavy warmth, my feet move slowly, an effort is needed to keep my eyes open under the pressure of the hot drowsy air. At night one sheet seems too much except to absorb sweat and keep off the stray mosquito. Sometimes even the rain gives no relief. Last night it did cool the air and I feel quite light. In the dark "Y" recreation room I leaped over chairs, wildly played the piano, did some acrobatics I've never managed before and balleted till I was pink faced. When I returned to the dorm I amazed all the old ladies by leaping over the beds to get to my own.

Often people seem to feel it's all wrong for a girl to be wandering about alone, usually their attitude changes when I tell them all I have found on my bicycle—what a perfect happiness it is for me.

A young man I met here in New Orleans said he would get awfully bored with the stretches between towns and asked if I didn't. Bored! with nature that is different in each tiny spot, that changes with each second of time, never! I sit on my bike and watch a continuous movie of miracles. If I'm not satisfied just watching I got off to feel or smell or taste or touch.

Some of the things that happen make me groan or cry at the time, but I appreciate a good groan as well as a good laugh. It's all part of life, just like the shadow is part of the sun, or the thorn part of the rose and I don't want one part without the other.

I know there are so many things I haven't written about, but I live so from meal to meal that I keep quite busy, but do not send me any money, let me sweat it out! I'll make out all right.

Please cash this check and send me the money by air mail. I have tried every way possible to cash it. Seems like no one in this town can trust a stranger. A boy I met indorsed it and got the money for me. When he told his Dad about it, he (his dad) sent a "Better Business" man out to the "Y" to get the money back. I had already spent a dollar so he only got $12 (I kept another dollar with his permission for food).

I'm going to work in the St. Regis, a famous New Orleans cafe, in the French quarters, today so I'll be all right! Money sure goes fast when I stop in a city.

New Orleans, June 5.

An evening at home is a change for me. Thelma and I are chatting about our beliefs, training and ways of life and getting our clothes ready for tomorrow. Sue is curled up on her bed, studying. A boat on the Mississippi gives a loud, gutteral moan, reminding me sharply that I'm in New Orleans, the United States third largest port, miles from home. A lonely train wail adds to the shivers the boat's signal sent rippling over me. The calm drip, drip of water from the bathroom faucet makes me feel better again. Water drips with the same persistency in California. The parrot next door mimiking senselessly, is drowned out by the rising roar of cheers at the ball game in the nearby stadium. A breeze passes in one of our upstairs windows and out the other carrying with it a homey feeling in the melody of our landlady's song and temporary relief from the sticky heat.

We three are a contrast—Thelma, a milky-skinned red head, teaches school in the Mississippi hill country. A vacation is her outward purpose for being in New Orleans. Sue is a French girl who makes money dancing so she can continue school. She wears heavy makeup, cheap jewelry, outlandish clothes. Her thick black hair grows low on her brow and is overdressed with "switches" that surprised me the first evening I spent here.

Our aims and hopes in life are so different. Sue says we well represent "Faith, Hope and Charity."

Am leaving New Orleans Monday, June 9th.

Love always, Norma.

LOCAL MAN WINS FIRST AND THIRD ON NATIONAL WATER-SKI MEET ON BAY

Capt. C. B. McKinstry of 2132 Worden St. won first, stock engine class, and third special motor class, with his 18-ft. Higgins Runabout in the National Water-Ski meet held for the first time in San Diego bay June 13 to 15, inclusive. He was awarded a large trophy cup for his first and a smaller trophy for the third place win.

Sponsored jointly by the San Diego Speedboat club and the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the meet was held along the waterfront at Harbor Dr. A few accidents happened along with the fun. One hapless sportsman is recuperating in Mercy hospital from injuries suffered when his small craft capsized.

56 Students Receive Awards at Annual P. L. H. S. Assembly

At the first outdoor assembly in the school's history, 56 students of Point Loma High school, judged to be outstanding in various fields of study, received awards of merit. This special assembly was held on the terrace, with the student body seated on the lawn, and was amplified by a public address system.

Warranting mention as the most outstanding single student was Carol Troendley, who received the annual Pete W. This award has been traditionally presented every year to the most deserving student by the former principal of the school, whose name it bears. Miss Troendley's name will be engraved on a plaque which will form a part of the school's honor roll.

Priscilla Allen, Mary Maw, Harry Bixby and David Finster shared the honors for the best school citizenship of the year. They were awarded by Mrs. Edward C. Persons, president of the Point Loma P. T. A., which organization sponsored the award.

The departmental awards were presented to Nagene Urquhart for art; Louise Freitas for business education; Priscilla Allen and Mary Maw for English; Priscilla Allen for foreign language; Bernett Toskey for mathematics; Nancy Peterson for music; Joe Medina for boys' physical education; Jean Wright for girls' physical education; Cadet Lt. Col. Gerald Quick for R. O. T. C.; Harry Bixby for social studies; and Owen Berkheimer for technical arts.

Pennants for school service and student body activities were awarded to Jennings Brewer, Bill Calloway, Joan Jefferson, Mary Match, John Singer and Stancil Wilson.

Life memberships in the California Scholarship Federation were granted to Priscilla Allen, Harry Bixby, Lila Dean, Louise Freitas, Lee Holmes, Mary Match, Mary Maw, Robert Mengar, Mary Parestrello, Nancy Peterson, Carol Troendley and Ethel Williams.

Three financial scholarships were bestowed. The first, a $300 gift of the P. T. A. was awarded to Alyce Rosa. The Consolidated Foremen's club's two $100 scholarships went to Bob Caulfield and Paul Swartz.

NEWS IN BRIEF

William E. Nelson Jr. of 4661 Coronado and Marguerite Schappaugh of 4329 Del Mar were among the graduates at Pomona College in Claremont Tuesday, June 17.

Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Polzin of 4376 Newport were hosts at a Keno party Wednesday evening. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Martin Sorenson, Mrs. Myrtle Gregg, Chris Peterson, also Leo Pharinault of Boston, Mrs. Iva Ishmael of Honolulu, and Mr. Fred Stark of Lakeside.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Bybee and family, formerly of Ocean Beach, have purchased a 10-acre ranch at Jamacha, Calif., and are now living there. Mr. Bybee is at present helping Warren Fox, also a former Ocean Beach resident, to build a cabin at Lake Arrowhead.

The R. H. Harrisons of 3220 Newell St. have returned from their month-long vacation trip which took them through the midwest and included New Orleans. Mrs. Harrison reports that they missed the greater part of the storm devastation which has brought heavy loss to much of that section in recent weeks.

Jack Knight, president of the 20-30 Club of San Diego, and Mrs. Knight returned Monday from Santa Barbara, where they had gone for a week-end of club meetings. Inasmuch as Santa Barbara was formerly Mrs. Knight's home, the couple took along their two children, Karen Mae, 5, and Jackie, 2.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry K. Adams of 4344 Newport are expecting Mrs. Adams' daughter, the former Betty Seneca, to arrive with her husband Robert Lee Ogran from Baltimore, Md. The couple will drive out in their recently acquired 1947 Buick, and Mrs. Ogran expects to remain in Ocean Beach for a month, although her husband will have to return to the East after a brief 10 days.

BIRTHS

May evidently was a big month for new babies, and Ocean Beach again proved itself no slacker when it comes to population increase. The births include the following:

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence L. Tibbals of 4484 Osprey St., welcomed a daughter May 15.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Laverne E. Keck of 4876 Santa Monica, a son, Michael Eugene Keck, May 12.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. White of 5144 Long Branch have a new son, born May 13.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel C. Southerland of 4940 Santa Cruz, welcomed a daughter May 21.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Payne of 5045 Voltaire have a new baby boy, born May 21.

GLADYS BOWEN DANCERS PRESENT PROGRAM AT RUSS

The Gladys Bowen Dance Studios presented a week-end "dance display," Saturday, June 14, and Sunday, June 15, at Russ Auditorium in San Diego for which Ocean Beach contributed several young performers. The youngsters performed practically every kind of dancing, from formal ballet to exclusively American swing rythms, and the concensus among the reviewing critics was that the kids showed both personality and promise.

Ocean Beach children performing in this recital were Betty Tobias, Barbara Rice, Barbara Nichols, Patricia Murphy, Linda Gay Arnold, Doris Kay Steele, Ninette Hall, Barbara Foxworthy, "Susan and Arden," David Woods and Carol Jean Lawrence.

Ruth Rosengrant of 1760 Sunset Cliffs Blvd. was graduated yesterday from San Diego Junior College. A drafting major, Miss Rosengrant plans to enter the field of mechanical drafting.

SHEARS-ROGERS ELOPEMENT ANNOUNCED BY TELEGRAM; MARRIED AT YUMA JUNE 8

The former Jean Ardelle Shears surprised her friends and family when she wired her mother from Yuma, Ariz. that she and Henry J. Rogers of 4138 Banning had married there June 8. Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Shears, 4148 Voltaire, the bride's parents, had found a note which the young couple had left for them, stating their intentions, and were thus prepared for the telegram.

Wedding of Point Loma High Students Set for July 6th

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Goeb of 1755 Sunset Cliffs Blvd. announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter Barbara Rose to Paul E. Swartz of Wichita, Kans. Plans are for the couple to be married July 6, following the prospective groom's graduation from Point Loma high school. The bride will wear a gown of eyelet embroidery with veil and will be attended by her elder sister Margaret Jeanne Goeb and Miss Frances Wisdom as bridesmaids.

The groom has asked Ernest Ozbun, a former schoolmate from Wichita, to be best man, and both will take part in the ceremony dressed in dark business suits.

Miss Goeb will be given in marriage by her father, and after a brief wedding trip to Northern California ,the couple will make their home in the Ocean Beach vicinity, since young Swartz will be engaged in the retail grocery business here.

S. D. County Fair to Feature Top-Flight Circus and Rodeo

ENTERTAINMENT FOR ALL AGES PROMISED AT DEL MAR, JUNE 27-JULY 6

Fair officials report that entertainment attractions to appeal to every taste will be featured at this year's San Diego County Fair, to be held at Del Mar from June 27 to July 6.

Scope of the show will far surpass the record-breaking spectacle of last summer, when 166,000 visitors saw the many events on display.

Two of the major events booked for the 1947 Fair are the Shrine Circus, which will be staged for 11 performances, featuring "big top" stars known all over the nation, and a World's Championship Rodeo. The latter event will present national and international champions in the hazardous art of riding bucking horses, bulldogging steers and trying to master Brahma bulls.

Another new lure for Fair fans, especially children, will be "Enchanted Land," a magic wonderland designed to give the tots the thrill of their lives. This papier mache paradise—built in a large area on the fairgrounds—will have ample diversions for the youngsters, including miniature train rides, pony carts, puppet shows and tiny movie theater, featuring color cartoons.

Of course, there'll be the nightly Fiestacade, the glamorous stage show with a Latin motif and four-star acts; a Fiesta stage presentation in the afternoon; the Second Annual San Diego County Fair National Horse show; thrilling Air show; Fourth of July Fireworks display; exhibition harness and quarter horse racing for the sports lovers; colorful Gay Way with many new rides and sideshows; model airplane meet and model yacht regatta and special athletic events for adults and children.

Flower Show to Attract

Another top attraction will be the expanded Flower show. In its natural setting just inside the main entrance, this year's display will be augmented greatly by the addition of a special orchid show.

Theme of this year's Fair is "Outdoor Life," a particularly fitting one for San Diego. There will be exhibits featuring yachting, aviation, motoring, fishing and hunting. Included will be a motor boat and small boat display, commercial aircraft show with latest models in planes, etc.

There'll be showings of livestock, poultry and rabbits, agriculture and horticulture, domestic science, natural resources, a Junior Fair and 4-H club exhibit.

The famed General Motors scientific show will have its own tent on the grounds. This show will appear for the first time in the west at the San Diego County Fair and will offer three free performances daily.

The Army, Navy and Marine Corps will have instructive exhibits at the Fair, displaying the might of a nation at peace.

Commercial exhibits will include the latest in automobiles, trucks and manufactured products. A complete model home, equipped with all the labor-saving devices designed to make the modern housewife's task an easier one, will be built on the grounds and will be open for inspection.

San Diego Optimist club is sponsoring a Hobby and Handicraft show for the youths of the county. And there will also be a Photo salon and Art Mart with participants, both amateur and professional, from this area.

CALIFORNIA SPEAKS!

Significant Statements by Interesting Californians

CHAS. STURTEVANT, Tulare cattleman who drilled for water, struck oil instead—"We'll shut it off and try another spot. All I want is a water well."

MRS. GEO. GREEN, Burlingame housewife — "The movies have ruined many more evenings than they have morals."

Trick With Roast Lamb

For a zesty spring dish, season roast lamb with a blend of garlic juice and salt. It's different!

The Bay Sportsman

(By Francis Hersey)

Howdy folks: I sure did run out on you last week, didn't I? Well, I found out the hard way that moving is really quite a trick. For a while now I will be camping out on a ranch at Elsinore.

There is a lot of swell country up here, and so far there is plenty of open country to hunt. Have been wandering around the hills the last few days and the quail seem to be increasing . . . have seen several hundred and many small ones. Counted one covey of 47 adult birds and nearby saw over 20 young chicks. There is plenty of food here but water will be scarce by the middle of summer. It also seems that there is more than the usual amount of dove here for this time of year. They fly over the ranch each morning and evening in good-sized flocks and are nesting in good numbers in the tall gum trees just out of town. Over around Good Hope the folks tell me that the rabbits are thicker than they have been for years, so all in all it looks as though hunting up here this fall will be better than it has been for some years past.

Sometime when you have a week-end to spare try fishing Railroad Canyon lake. The water is low and more and larger bass have been taken this year than for a long time. Bass are averaging up around 2½ pounds and many fishermen are taking them up to 5 and 6 pounds. Bluegill fishing is also good and they are running large. You can fish this lake from 5 a. m. to dark and prices for permits, boats, etc., run about the same as the San Diego county lakes.

Fishermen returning from Henshaw report that the bluegill are really hitting and that the bass seem to be taking more interest in the plugs being offered them. As the weather warms up everyone's fishing will improve, but if you come up here come ready for some really warm weather as it sure can get hot and usually does!

Save Precious Time

Extra minutes can be saved for spring cleaning or gardening by planning a one-dish meal for dinner. Try a skillet combination of browned pork sausage links with spaghetti, tomatos and a touch of grated cheese. Serve with head lettuce salad, hard rolls, and baked apples for dessert.

Electricity is worth waiting for

Just picture your home with hot water for every purpose whenever you want it! . . . for the laundry, for baths, for dishes, cleaning and dozens of other daily chores. And this picture can be a reality . . . when you have an automatic electric water heater. Small wonder, then, that 5,000 new customers in San Diego County have applied for electric service and are waiting for the conveniences of new fully automatic ranges, water heaters, automatic washers, dishwashers, sinks, home freezers and other appliances that electricity makes possible.

And WHY some people must wait

Extending service to 5,000 new customers under existing postwar conditions requires TIME. Shortages of construction materials and trained personnel continue as major bottlenecks. Hard-to-get copper wire, transformers and line equipment are being secured in slowly increasing quantities. Many men have been employed, but training requires time. Advertisements in eastern publications for experienced workers produced poor results and prompted the establishment of a school in Chula Vista where ex-G. I.'s and others are being given a nine-months' course of training as linemen.

Our own line construction crews have been augmented by 15 additional private contractor crews and line construction is going ahead at a tremendously accelerated rate. Over 500 new customers are being connected monthly. As new services are "cut in", we frequently hear this expression: . . . "At last we have electricity; it was worth waiting for!"

WHY BOOST GAS TAX RATE?

We've had quite a "parade of the pennies" in Sacramento in connection with proposed gas tax increases.

At first, you will remember, we were told that a 3-cent hike in gas taxes and a 4½ increase in diesel fuels were absolutely necessary to give California an adequate road system.

Then as the Senate got down to considering the bill the proposed increases were cut from 3 to 2 cents on gas and 4½ to 3 cents on diesel fuels. Lately, after the Assembly had refused any gas tax or diesel tax increase at all, the supporters of the Collier bill have been willing to accept a 1½ cent increase on both fuels.

There is still considerable doubt, however, if anything more than a 1 cent increase will get by the Legislature. But the point is that the arguments for the necessity of a 3-cent or a 2-cent rise have been pretty well dissipated.

There is still room for considerable debate whether any increase in automotive taxes are really essential. A convincing explanation has not been given as to why the Collier committee originally wanted such a heavy increase when the committee's own report showed that there would be ample funds for extensive road work—including expressways—for the next four years at least.

California's gas tax revenue, at the present rate of 3 cents a gallon is not to be sneezed at, being $6,279,475 for April, an increase of $846,287 or 15.58 percent over April 1946, according to report received this week from the State Board of Equalization. Evidently the big increase in population and especially the big increase in cars in this state should go a long way toward paying for the increased needs for road improvement.

At any rate, it now seems certain that if any increase goes through at all it will not be a heavy one—something for which the well-taxed motorist will be thankful.

Radio "Hams" Carry On Two-Day Tests Atop Mt. Soledad

L. William Passano, 4764 Santa Cruz, and a member of the Palomar Radio club was among the group of approximately 40 "hams" which met atop Mt. Soledad Saturday morning for an experimental test under simulated emergency conditions.

The men left their homes early Saturday morning, June 14, and spent the day on the mountain top preparing their equipment for the all night vigil which lasted through 26 hours of continually open airlanes. To meet set conditions of the test, transmitters, antenna and other necessary equipment were assembled on the spot, and independent electric power was supplied by a gasoline-fueled generator.

The test consisted in contacting and maintaining contact for as long as possible, with as many stations throughout the world as possible, under these makeshift arrangements. The weather provided added variety for testing purposes, since Saturday was a damp, windy and cloudy day, and Sunday dawned fair and clear.

Japan and Australia were two of the points contacted, in addition to a complete coverage of the United States and Hawaii. In general the concensus was that this was by far the most successful test ever attempted, and encouragement was found in the established fact that no emergency short of total annihilation could ever cut this section of the Pacific Coast completely apart from the rest of the world. Contact, it was believed, could be made with the outside world in an emergency of any kind. Both CW and Phone transmission were tested, as well as all frequencies.

Some of the operators had elaborate setups, Passano reported, up to and including a double trailer establishment. The owner camped in one and operated his equipment from the other. But for the most part, he said, the men spent the night in tents or on open ground, and ate catch-as-catch-can.

This particular testing group was part of a nation-wide organization of amateur radio technicians, who have been attempting for some time to conduct a genuine test of what radio can do to help maintain the national security. The main branch, located in Connecticut, set the official testing time (from 4 p. m. Saturday to 6 p .m. Sunday Pac. Standard Time) and all "hams" throughout the country were urged to participate in the event. At the end of the testing period, 691 official contacts had been recorded.

MRS. SHIRLEY TO JOIN HER HUSBAND IN GUAM

Mrs. B. C. Shirley is currently awaiting sailing orders from the Navy Office of Transportation in San Francisco. She expects to be sent wtih her two children (aged 6 months and 7 years) to Guam, where her husband is stationed. Mrs. Shirley is making preparations for her family's year and a half stay in the tropics. The baby will be given powdered milk, inasmuch as frozen milk would be harmful for him. But the older child, doctors assured Mrs. Shirley, would thrive on the frozen milk. She has also been advised that Guam is now equipped with hospital facilities as well as education for younger children, and that life there is similar to life in California. While the Shirleys are away, their house will be rented to Mrs. Shirley's sister.

A cookout down on the beach, led by Mrs. Brunk was enjoyed by the members of the Naborhood club after their meeting last week. Steak, bacon, potatoes and onions were cooked over a campfire.

SHORT STORY

Majolica Vase

By L. T. McFARLAND

HARRY LANG had come prepared to spend fifty dollars for the vase. He sat nervously watching the auctioneer, the people, and the door and prayed that Marjory Higgins (that horrid spinster who seldom missed an auction, and always outbid him for his treasures) had broken a leg or something so she couldn't appear this time when the Majolica vase was to be put up on the block.

He strained his neck for the hundredth time toward the entrance. He wondered if her knowledge of antiques covered old pottery. Maybe not. Maybe his auction-sparring enemy didn't know a Majolica vase from a beer mug. Yet the very thought of those snapping eyes and that crisp sanguine voice sent his blood pressure soaring.

"What am I bid for this Majolica vase? A rare antique! Rarest thing in this room!" the auctioneer's well-oiled voice boomed forth while his free hand gestured out over wash tubs, kraut shovels, and the toil-worn carpet sweepers.

3-Minute Fiction

There it was! Harry looked about cautiously and held his breath for the sheer beauty of it.

"Who will start the bid?" the auctioneer coaxed.

"Thank you, sir, five dollars. Who will make it ten?" Thus the bidding proceeded until thirty was reached.

She pictured her proud exit with the vase safely tucked away.

THE crowd was swaying restlessly. Interest was on the wane. Harry took a plunge. "Forty," he finally said. Now the vase was practically in his lap, but the auctioneer held on. "Forty—forty—is all I am offered—who'll make it fifty—?"

"Fifty," called a clear voice near the door.

Suffering cats! It was her voice.

The crowd turned en masse to see Marjory Higgins make her way up the aisle to a spot almost directly in front of Harry. She stood there, confidently, already picturing her proud exit with the vase in her possession.

Harry ground his teeth and muttered, "Sixty."

"Seventy-five," the crisp voice came back at once as Miss Higgins tossed a swift challenge back in Harry's direction.

"Eighty." Harry took the challenge, and this time Marjory flushed and seemed embarrassed.

"Eighty," teased the cryer. "Eighty I am offered. Make it eighty-five, Miss?"

The girl nodded. "Eighty-five."

Harry was really seeing red.

"Eighty-five it is. Now make it ninety, Mister, make it ninety. Don't let the lady outbid you."

Harry sensed that the crowd to a man was on the lady's side and were inwardly rooting for her, enjoying her sportsmanship—so he raised up and shouted, "Ninety."

Now he had it. The auctioneer scolded and pleaded and begged but Marjory was immovable. She must be pouting. She heard the "Going—going—g-"

THEN it happened. Marjory Higgins whirled about and faced Harry Lang. She was trembling. "You cheap skate!" she shouted. "You penny pincher! It's not the money, but the principle of the thing that burns me up. All this embarrassment over a measly nickel or two. Ninety cents—well you don't get it for ninety. I bid one dollar. So there! And now that the vase is mine, I'd like nothing better than the privilege of breaking it over your head."

She stepped up to the stand and snatching the vase from the for-once speechless auctioneer, threw it with all her strength at Harry Lang's dome. Lucky for Harry he had made his record in football catching forward passes. A moment later it lay neatly tucked away under his arm.

"Touchdown," someone shouted and the crowd surged forward pushing Harry Lang until he was face to face with his assailant.

"Thanks, Madam. Thanks very much for the vase—the clerk will be along in a minute to collect your bid," he managed as the crowd pressed up. And in the riot that followed, Harry edged his way outside.

FRANK BARNER HONORED ON 17TH BIRTHDAY

A "progressive" dinner party was given recently for Frank Barner, in honor of his 17th birthday. The young guests enjoyed themselves from one end of Point Loma to the other. The host and his friends, most of whom are students at Point Loma High began the dinner with a salad course at the Ryan home on Poe St. The main course was served at the Odinot home on Silvergate Ave., and the dessert at Barner's home on Muir. Following the dinner the group moved on to the Bixby home on Rosecrans where they enjoyed an evening of dancing. Guests were Ann Odinot, Nancy Wilhelm, Richie Strange, Roy Creelman, Doris Braden, Hay Young, Danny Evans, Annabel Ryan, David Fenster, Harry Bixby, Mary Match, Shirly Hill and Don Blackman. The host received a gift from the group.

SOCIETY SPONSORS CRUISE

The Altar Society of Sacred Heart church of Ocean Beach is sponsoring a Harbor cruise for Sunday, June 22, from 2 to 4 p. m., to which the public is cordially invited. Proceeds will go to the church fund. The pleasure boat will leave the Broadway dock at 2 p. m. sharp. The trip covers all points of interest in the bay, from Point Loma to Coronado. Mrs. I. A. Hegerle, B-3721, is taking reservations in advance though tickets may be picked up at the wharf before sailing time.

LADS BEFRIENDED BY F. PHILLIPS STEAL CAR WHILE HE IS FISHING

There must be exceptions to every rule. Last week the standing rule that Point Lomans are always polite and courteous to strangers was b r o k e n when Frank Phillips, fisherman of Uplands, preparing his boat at High Seas Packing Co. pier, invited three Point Loma lads aboard and was repaid by having his car stolen. Seems that after the young 14-year-olds had lunched at Mr. Phillips expense one of them was asked to get a cake from their host's automobile parked near the dock. Noting where the keys were kept, one of the boys later "borrowed" the keys and excusing himself from the rest of the group, sneaked away to have a duplicate set made and then returned the originals to their place on the boat.

After the boat and Mr. Phillips had sailed, the three boys made good use of his car, that is they did until the police picked them up after a minor traffic accident and took them to Anthony Detention home to await their punishment.

OCEAN BEACH PTA GROUP ENTERTAIN AT CENTER

Ocean Beach's recreation center was the scene of the pot-luck luncheon hostessed by the Ocean Beach Elementary school P. T. A. Wednesday, June 11. Under the presiding chairmanship of Mrs. Jean DuPaul of Loma Portal the Beach section of the P. T. A. Council met in general discussion, at which the principals of the 10 schools represented were present. Also invited were the presidents, hospitality chairmen, and historians of the 10 schools in the district. Members of the Ocean Beach board who received the visitors are Mmes. J. C. Love, Stanley Grobecker, John Tibbets and J. M. Johnson.

F. R. DOWNHAMS SURPRISED AT HOUSEWARMING PARTY

The F. R. Downhams were surprised Sunday evening when self-invited guests arrived to celebrate the purchase of the Downhams new home at 4476 Granger, to which they moved from 1865 Mendota. The impromptu party was a spontaneous affair, the guests, invited by Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Adams, who arranged the event, bringing refreshments with them.

LOVELACES ENTERTAIN SAN DIEGO CHORAL CLUB

"VIRGIL'S VIEWS"

Boy! Did we ever have a hard time getting rid of those prizes last Saturday night? Eighteen numbers were called that didn't answer; so 18 of you folks missed the boat. Mabel Walrod of 3359 Grinnell finally won the breakfast that Virgil was giving away. Bacon, eggs and coffee and all the trimmin's including a ball point pen (writes under coffee?) And a neighbor of Mrs. Walrod's, Mrs. G. Rohlf at 3349 Grinnell, won a Morrell Picnic Ham. Wonder if any of the attendants at the affair dropped in on her as unexpected guests last Sunday. Virgil also gave away 2 bushel baskets of groceries, one to Charles H. Holler of 4461 Coronado and one to Mrs. C. Hirzy of 4654 Lotus, both regular shoppers at Virgil's. As if they didn't save enough just shopping there, they win prizes too, yet!

Bet we know who had applesauce this week. Could be that J. C. Love of 4554 Narragansett had a whole mess of it, 'cause he did win a big box of cooking apples and the sugar to go with it, and E. W. Weaver of 4772 Del Monte won a lug box, heaping with bananas. Um-yum!

Have you noticed how many Ocean Beach merchants are coming in on Virgil's evenings? Mary Jane's beauty shop gave a $2 credit on any beauty job she might want to Helen Shoupe of 4811 Del Monte, and next week Scott's Curtain Store is going to give away a shower curtain with matching window curtain. Quite swank. Also next week, Bestway Cleaners are going to give away a $5 cleaning credit, and if cleaning bills are the headache to you that they are to this reporter, you'll be happy to stand in front of Virgil's for the half hour it takes to decide the right numbers. So don't throw away your tickets, folks. There is more and better yet to come!

Ever notice all the big signs plastered all over Virgil's walls? One of them wounds your reporter's sense of the grammatical—"If the wholesaler don't cut prices, we will." But the important part is that they are certainly worth reading. For instance where it says 10% off on all jams and jellies.

Now, we've heard you ladies griping considerably about the high price of jam and jelly, but we wonder if you've bought them at Virgil's lately. For instance there are these big, 2-lb. jars of your favorite flavor jam, red raspberry, youngberry, g r a p e, plum, etc. and they are marked from 45c to 68c, which is cheap enough. But when you get up to the check stand, the smiling cashier rings up not 45c but 41c. Yep, it's the truth, and faster than you can figure out what 10% off would be if you had to do it right on the spot.

Bet your family is just plain batty about bread and jam most any time of the day, and at this price you can afford to keep them happily going at it all the time. Tell 'em to smear it on thick. It costs almost nothing! (Yes, bread is still the same price—1½-lb. loaves 16c.)

Understand now, it doesn't have to be any one brand or flavor. Every jar of jam or jelly in the store just automatically has 10% knocked off its selling price. Virgil isn't exactly playing Santa Claus—not quite. He still makes an infinitesimal profit, but he's selling so much more jam and jelly that he's breaking even, at least, and keeping you folks coming into his store to buy other things at infinitesimal profits to him, which infinitesimal profits all add up to good business, as Henry Ford discovered long, long ago. Yep, thirty years ago it was Henry Ford; now it's Virgil.
